19 Great Cumberland Place
7: July 1829.

My dear Sir.

we have just received from Sir Charles Colville the Governor of the Isle of France the translation of the Gospel of S^t Luke & part of that of S^t Matthew from the English into the Madagascan language as this is the first work what was ever printed on Madagascar^[a] & as it will be an effort of curiosity to you & may possibly |146v| be of use to you in your researches into the South American languages the committee have at my request agreed to send it off immediately to you

Pray have the kindness after you have considered it, to write me fully what you think of the language. if you would wish any further inquiries to be made upon the subject, send me any instructions |147r| or queries which may occur to you & I will immediately forward them to Sir Charles Colville who is a friend of mine & will be delighted to procure any further information <for you> as to this or any other language in the Island of Madagascar.

Lady Johnston & I were happy to see L <the> Baroness Bulow looking so well the other |147v| day.

Lady Johnston & my daughters beg to be kindly remembered to you & I am

My dear Baron

Yours very sincerely

Alex.^r Johnston.

D^r. Rosen will leave us shortly for Berlin. I will write you again by him. I hope you have heard good accounts from your brother the Baron Alexander

a) |Editor| Zu den ersten auf Madagaskar gedruckten Büchern gehörte das Lukas-Evangelium von Griffiths und Jones; siehe Carol Holden (1997): Early printing from Africa in the British Library.
